

Look for the smiley face in the left column and a note that you are logged in as your name in the upper right column.

The screenshot shows the cExtension online Campus website. The browser window is titled "cExtension online Campus - Windows Internet Explorer". The address bar shows "http://campus-extension.org/index.php". The page has a blue header with the "cExtension" logo and the tagline "where minds reach". Below the header, there is a welcome message: "Welcome to the online campus of cExtension, a national collaborative initiative of the Cooperative Extension System. Additional educational resources are available at www.extension.org. To find a course, click a category name to see courses in each, Search by name or topic area by entering a keyword in the Search box, or View All Courses".

On the left side, there is a "Good Morning" section with a smiley face icon and the name "Willie Works". Below it is a "Logout" button. Further down is a "Course categories" section with a list of categories and their respective course counts. On the right side, there is a "Login with OpenID" section and a "cExtension Latest" section with various news items.

Annotations on the screenshot include:

- A blue oval with the text "You are logged in if both of these are present on the screen" pointing to the smiley face icon and the login status.
- A red circle around the smiley face icon.
- A red circle around the text "You are logged in as Willie Works (Logout)" in the upper right corner.
- A red arrow pointing from the smiley face icon to the login status.
